BLUU Cheese Grill opens on campus

By MICHELLE ROSS
STAFF WRITER

Cheddar Bombs is gone, but students with a hankering for cheese aren't without options at Union Grounds.

BLUU Cheese Grill opened recently in the Brown-Lupton University Union.

The grill offers a wide variety of sandwiches, said Rick Flores, retail director for Sodexo.

"You have your classics, you have The Earl, you have everything from The German, to The New Yorker, to The Italian Job, and the BCT, which everyone loves with that bacon and tomato and with all that cheese," Flores said. "The best part is when it comes out of the oven with that gooey cheese. It's perfect."

Avigal Valencia, a junior communication studies major, said she liked The Italian Job sandwich.

"It has different kinds of meat and it taste pretty delicious," Valencia said. "It has a fresh taste and is fresh out of the oven."

Students weren't complaining about Cheddar Bombs, but "grilled cheese is a good option for the cooler months," said Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, Dr. Kathy Cavins-Tull. "Before Cheddar Bombs, the micro-restaurant offered a toasted sandwich menu."

The university wants to give students options for dining on campus and have the opportunity to be flexible to students' tastes, said Cavins-Tull.

The BLUU Cheese Grill will last "as long as students are interested," she said. "When they are not, we'll try something else."

The micro-restaurant accepts Campus Cash and is open from 11 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. daily.

Other dining options available for students on campus include Market Square, Chick Fil A, Starbucks, Steel City Popsicles, Sushi Mama, Bistro Burnett, NRG, The Press, O'Brien's, Caliente, and Magnolias.

TCU new parking plans

By BETSY FORESMAN
STAFF WRITER

As TCU gears up for another round of construction, crews are working to make sure there's adequate parking.

The university has asked the city for permission to build parking lots on the 2900 block of Merida Avenue and on the 2800 block of Princeton Street, where houses once stood.

The Merida Avenue block is being converted into a parking lot to complement the anticipated renovation of the Neeley School of Business, Todd Waldvogel, associate vice chancellor of facilities and campus planning, wrote in an e-mail. He added the Princeton Street block will help make space for the proposed TCU School of Music Village.

Two new parking lots are planned for the 2900 Merida Ave. block and 2800 Princeton St. block next month.

major Sheridan Johnston said she wishes TCU would use the land for a new interior design building, but said a new parking lot would benefit many students. The new interior design building is planned for a lot at West Cantey Street and Greene Avenue.

The TCU Neeley expansion is expected to begin construction in summer of 2017, said Elaine Cole, public relations marketing and communications manager for the business school. The TCU School of Music Village does not have a projected construction start date yet.

Last month, the university's rezoning request was approved by the Fort Worth Zoning Committee. The city council voted on the issue Tuesday.

Charlie Day, Jillian Bell, Tracy Morgan talk “Fist Fight”

By HANK KILGORE
EDITOR OF THE SKIFF

No fighting here: cast of “Fist Fight” opens up about their latest comedy.

The latest comedy from director Richie Keen stars Ice Cube and Day as high school teachers who get into an after-school fight when Day’s character gets Ice Cube’s character fired.

The film’s stars said they enjoyed working on “Fist Fight” because of its story.

“When I read this script, it was exciting for me to get to play a guy who was out in front of a movie, to be the guy of the story,” Day said. “I also liked that I got to be a little bit more of a normal person in a sea of crazy people, and then I got to fully unwind and then do what I am more used to doing.”

Bell said the cast is what really drew her to the project.

“I’m such a fan of every single person in this movie, so I felt lucky,” Bell said. “It’s definitely the weirdest character I’ve ever been offered to play, and I love playing odd women so it fit perfectly.”

After a near-fatal car crash in 2014, Morgan has taken a break from acting.

“It scares me, so automatically coming from my situation, it frightened me to do a movie,” Morgan said. “I didn’t know if my comedic timing was back. I didn’t know if the confidence was there. Charlie Day and Jillian and Ice Cube and Richie Keen, they gave me the confidence. It was total support. It became more and more fun for me.”

Many of the film’s stars are television veterans and the panel addressed the differences of working on a film opposed to a show.

“TV is a little bit more personable than movies,” Morgan said. “When you go see movies, you’re in there with strangers and you pay $15 and if they don’t like the movie, they can’t get their money back. But TV is something, in order to be in people’s home, they gotta love you.”

Bell also said shooting movies can be like a fun trip.

“I love the shooting, though. A lot of movies don’t shoot where you live so it feels like camp a little bit,” Bell said.

The cast also said there were little-to-no challenges in making the film.

“The challenge was getting people like Tracy Morgan and Jillian,” Day said. “Jillian’s character wasn’t even written as a woman and we wanted a funny woman in the movie and we wanted Jillian in the movie.”

Bell, who has worked with Ice Cube before in “22 Jump Street,” said the film was fun to shoot.

“I was very excited to be a part of it,” Bell said.

Keen has directed hit comedy show “It’s Always Sunny in Philadelphia” with Day for years. Day said working with him on “Fist Fight” was “very helpful [because he] could be more hands-on with the film.”

CONSTRUCTION

Robert Carr Chapel ready by summer

By SARA COLBERT
STAFF WRITER

TCU’s Robert Carr Chapel is hidden behind screened fencing while construction crews make it more easily accessible to those with disabilities.

The chapel should be ready by this summer to host the nuptials of 25 couples who plan to tie the knot between June and August.

“When people first heard of the closure, we received mixed responses,” said Kayli Burnett, Carr Chapel coordinator. “Some people were excited for what is to come, while others were nostalgic for what is being altered.”

Workers are installing ramps on both sides of the chapel so that people do not have to use the ramps at the entrance of Beasley Hall to access the chapel. Two restrooms are being equipped so that they are accessible for people with disabilities.

The chapel will not be destroyed or ruined in the construction process, according to Harold Leeman, associate director for construction.

Horned Frogs adds two transfers to 2017 roster

By BRANSON NELSON
STAFF WRITER

Director of Volleyball Jill Kramer announced that for their upcoming season they will add transfer students Lexi MacLean and Mykah Wilson to the 2017 roster.

MacLean, from Arizona State, and Wilson, from Long Beach State, have two years of eligibility remaining and are eligible for the 2017 season.

Lexi MacLean is a 6-foot-2 outside hitter who will be making a return to DFW. She was a four-time letterwinner and two-time captain at Frisco Centennial High School just outside of Dallas.

MacLean was a valued asset for the ASU, as she

Lexi MacLean and Mykah Wilson

ranked fifth on the team with 200 kills in 84 sets during the 2016 season. During her first season in 2015, MacLean appeared in half of her team's matches, tallying 58 sets over 16 matches. In her two seasons at ASU, MacLean collected 280 kills.

"Lexi is an explosive and dynamic player with an intense and exuberant personality on and off the court," Kramer said.

"She's a giver and I can already tell she likes to bring out the best in everyone around her," Kramers said.

Mykah Wilson is a 5-foot-11 libero and defensive specialist who will also be returning home to the Metroplex. Wilson was an All-State selection and District Defensive Player of the Year at Southlake Carroll High School her senior year.

Wilson was a prominent member of the Long Beach State team, playing in 192 sets over 51 matches while recording 14 starts, in two seasons.

During her time at LBSU, Wilson picked up 552 digs, an average of 2.88 digs per set.

one. "I've known Mykah for a while and am confident she will add to the culture of our program in a positive way," Kramer said.

In addition to Wilson being a new member of the indoor team, Kramer said, "We expect her to contribute on the beach team in future years, as she played beach volleyball at Long Beach as well."

TRACK AND FIELD

Horned Frogs return to College Station for Charlie Thomas Invitational

By MAYA BULGER
STAFF WRITER

The Horned Frogs had another weekend of solid performances in track and field, making their third appearance this season in College Station.

Running Events

Junior Nicole Hicks, sophomore Kirsten Johnston and first-year student Lindsay Tomaini opened last Friday's meet with second, fifth and eighth place finishes in the 5K. Hicks clocked in at 17:22.93, Johnston at 17:50.84 and Tomaini at 17:56.72.

Sophomore Brittney Trought ran a season-best in the 60-meter hurdles with a second-place time of 8.44 in the finals. Trought's time of 8.44 ranks No. 5 on TCU's all-time list.

Sophomore Kayla Heard won her heat and finished third overall in the 400 meters with a time of 54.21.

On the men's side, sophomore Derrick Mokalleng, junior Kevin McClanahan and first-year student Jostyn Andrews finished sixth, seventh and eighth in the 400 meter dash. Mokalleng ran a season-best time of 47.74 and McClanahan and Andrews finished behind a time of 47.93.

Junior Emeilo Ferguson took a first-place finish in the 60-meter dash with a time of 6.75. Ferguson also posted a season-best time of 21.35 in the 200 meters, placing fifth.

For the women, senior Sabrina Moore recorded a season-best time of 24.28 in the 200 meters.

The women's 4x400-meter relay squad of Heard, seniors Tiffany Terry and Judy Emeodi, and sophomore Jaden Davis placed fifth with a time of 3:44.41. The men's 4x400 team of McClanahan, Andrews, Mokalleng, and first-year student Ryan Champlin recorded the nation's No. 12 time as they finished third behind a time of 3:07.63.

Field Events

Senior Paola Miranda placed seventh in the weight throw, recording a mark of 53 feet 2 inches (16.21 meters).

First-year student Isaiah Rogers placed fourth in the shot put recording a mark of 56 feet 6 inches (17.22 meters).

Three Horned Frogs, first-year students Ryan Camp and Isaiah Rogers and sophomore Justin Sanchez placed in the weight throw. Camp took sixth with a mark of 58 feet 9 inches (17.92 meters), Rogers placed seventh at 57 feet 5 inches (17.51 meters) and Sanchez took eighth with a mark of 57 feet (17.39 meters).

The Horned Frogs travel to Frisco, Texas to compete in the Frisco Invitational on Friday, Feb. 10.

TCU junior markets jewelry line through her Instagram account

By TAYLOR WIRTZ

When 21-year-old TCU student Victoria Doder left California for Texas, she didn't realize just how much of home she brought with her.

"My whole family went to school in California, and so seeing girls in big shirts was not my thing, I always dressed as though I was from California," Doder said.

Doder said she quickly realized her style made her stand out.

"Everybody that I would always meet would go 'Oh my God you dress so Cali,'" she said.

Inspired by the comments on her personal style, Doder decided to turn her Southern California lifestyle into a brand, "So Cali Creations." For now, she's focusing on selling handmade choker necklaces and bracelets for $10 to $20 each.

Doder makes each piece in her room in her sorority house. She said her client base has grown rapidly, something she credits to her sole form of advertising: an Instagram account.

"People are friends with everybody in the world so I was like okay Instagram is where everybody can post comments, pictures post videos now, DM or whatever," she said.

According to Professor Artemis Moon, who teaches marketing in the Neeley School of Business, in today's technology-based world, social media marketing may be all one needs when first starting a business.

"At the beginning, which is the introductory stage, you are trying to make the consumer your target market. Social media has changed the way marketers communicate their brands to their target market. Right now, we have for example for Instagram, we have about 14 million users. And that shows that Instagram and different types of social media are now very actively used by the consumer base," said Moon.

He added social media can make the consumer feel more connected with brands, giving them the sense that their voice is being heard or their opinion is counted.

"It has more personalized the way the marketers can reach their target market," Moon said.

"Social media has changed the way marketers communicate their brands to their target market."

TCU STUDENT

Doder was inspired by the reach of Instagram after seeing her brother use it for his company.

"My brother actually started his own business of making surfing fins and that's kind of what he used to promote it, and he knows a bunch of well-known surfers," she said. "So I was like okay if he knows people I could reach out to people."

In addition to running her own account, Doder reached out to more than 14 well-known models and other social media celebrities to promote her line, she said she sent pieces of jewelry to those who responded so they could showcase it on their own accounts. Some of the models have as many as 200,000 followers.

"I think it spreads the word so that it's not just like people in California, or Texas where I go to school, are aware of what I'm doing," Doder said. "So that people in different countries are aware or different states are aware."

Moon said this idea of using social media celebrities to promote a brand is a common and well-used strategy.

"The strategy that [she] is using is actually what we call placement strategy. In other words, the product is used by a celebrity or by a person of interest or movie or a TV program," Moon said. "It is not a new strategy, but it's part of what we call trying to get your brand out there to the consumer so they have the feeling that it's not only them who's going to be using the product but they are partially using what the person that they are interested in or that they are following, what they are using."

Doder said Instagram has connected her with clients from all over the country.

"I had a girl reach out to me who's from New Jersey that wanted them and I was like 'whoa,' was not expecting that."

Horoscope

A baby born today has a Sun in Aquarius and a Moon in Cancer if born before 4:41 a.m. (ET). Afterward, the Moon will be in Leo.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Thursday, Feb. 9, 2017:

This year you often feel as if you are between a rock and hard place. You know what you feel, though there is a changeable quality to your feelings. Look at the long-term implications of your ideas, and think twice before taking a risk. If you are single, you could meet someone from out of the blue. You will have an important decision to make about this person. If you are attached, the two of you compromise more than you have in the past. LEO can be provocative.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

★★★★ Pace yourself, knowing full well that you have a lot to do, much of which demands your creativity and thoughtfulness. In your desire to manage the unexpected, you'll accomplish more than you thought possible. Goodwill surrounds your actions. Tonight: Let your hair down.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

★★★★ You might be considerably mellow compared with the past few days. You are able to stay centered as a result. The unexpected and/or the unpredictability of someone else could push you to head in a different direction. You'll want to make new choices. Tonight: Happy at home.

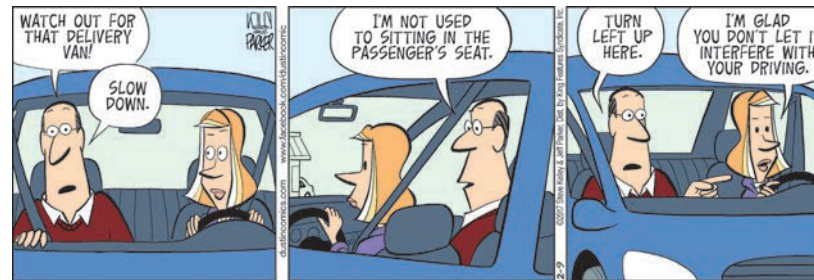

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

★★★★ Your ability to communicate is enhanced. How you feel in the presence of someone else could be surprising to you. You are likely to be found evaluating your chosen direction. Interesting thoughts might encourage you to take a risk. Tonight: Recognize your limits.

Carpe Diem by Niklas Eriksson

Dustin by Steve Kelley and Jeff Parker

Intelligent Life by David Reddick

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

★★★★ Hone your ability to see past someone's gestures. On one hand, this person seems open and caring. On the other hand, he or she might try to shake up a solid part of your life. Be aware of the multifaceted responses you are likely to get. Tonight: Pay bills before heading out.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

★★★★ Your sense of direction peaks, as others' falls into disarray. Many people might be weathering some of the unpredictable events of the past few days. You, on the other hand, can be sure of your choices. Tonight: Deal with the push and pull of a key friendship.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

★★★★ Consider your options more carefully than you have in the past. Your ability to test limits and make choices could upset a close partnership. You might want to take a step back if you want to create some healing. Try to be more receptive to others' ideas. Tonight: The only answer is "yes."

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

★★★★ Defer to others. A partnership carries unusual energy and possibilities. You might feel wedged between a rock and a hard place when it comes to making an important decision. A relationship could be tested. Tonight: Let go, and observe a power play at work.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

★★★★ Stay centered, and focus on what is important and what is not. Your sense of humor emerges when dealing with a loved one who wants all of your attention. Know that there are other concerns that also need your attention. How good is your juggling act? Tonight: In a whirlwind.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

★★★★ Others make it clear what they want and expect. Your sense of humor allows new options to emerge. Whereas some people could be offended by a comment, you will find it practical and insightful. Don't get caught up in the confusion. Tonight: Say "yes" to an offer.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

★★★★ You see a loved one's potential clearly, whereas most people do not. You have the ability to encourage this person to gain a greater sense of fulfillment. Your attention focuses on a personal or professional matter. Know what you want. Tonight: A force to be dealt with.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

★★★★ You might feel as if you need to be more aware of how much you do, as you could be experiencing some resentment about giving away too much of yourself. The unexpected occurs in your day-to-day life. Your feelings are more important than you realize. Tonight: Out late.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

★★★ You are fully aware of what you need to do. You might find that an unpleasant surprise hits your checkbook. This situation will force you to take a hard look at your finances in order to decide what changes need to be made. Tonight: Get a head start on tomorrow.

TCU TRIVIA ANSWER

TRUE! The Horned Frog has been around for 130 years.

Dr. Richard Gipson

College Orchestra Directors Association

Music Administrator of the Year

The College Orchestra Directors Association has named Richard Gipson Music Administrator of the Year. Dr. Gipson was recently honored at CODA's national conference in Washington, DC.

Gipson, who's been the director of TCU's School of Music since 2002, is credited with the school's significant growth. Under his leadership, the number of full-time faculty members has grown 65 percent, the number of students majoring in music now totals 320, and the School now offers over 100 public performances each year. The School of Music looks forward to an even brighter future with Gipson at its helm.

Congratulations, Dr. Gipson!
